

RECOWOWE doctoral workshop 2007
Masaryk University, Brno, Czech Republic
May 3-6 2007
PROGRAMME

Day, time	Paper
Thursday, Afternoon	18.00 Meeting in Brno, Faculty of Social Studies, Masaryk University, 19.00 dinner
Friday, morning 8.30 -12.50	Plenary session Tomáš Sirovátka New social risks and social exclusion as a challenge for social policy: Czech Republic in comparative perspective
(Break 10.30-10.50)	Rik van Berkel Studying welfare state transformations: bridging gaps between social policy, public administration and public organisation research
	Per H. Jensen Flexicurity: origins and difference from the Swedish Rehn-Meidner model
	Steven Saxonberg and Tomáš Sirovátka Failing family policies in Post-communist Central Europe
Friday, afternoon 13.50 - 17. 10	Group 1: Mads Peter Klindt, Aalborg University Flexicurity in the EU-countries
(Break 15.20 - 15.40)	Catherine Spieser, European University Institute The institutional underpinnings of labour market adjustment in Central Europe: diverging policy trajectories and long-lasting social outcomes. Employment flexibility and employment protection in Poland and the Czech Republic (1989-2004).
	Group 2 Helena Bartáková, Faculty of Social Studies Masaryk University Gender sensitive analysis of the selected family policies and equal opportunities policies in the Czech Republic
	Dorota Szelewa, European University Institute Comparing family policies in Czech Republic, Hungary and Poland
Saturday, morning 9.00-12.20 h	Group 1: Ondřej Hora, Faculty of Social Studies Masaryk University “Job quality” as a factor in job-search of long-term unemployed people
(Break 11-11.20)	Juraj Kopečni Political Risk of Social Security: Evidence from Reforms in Hungary and the Czech Republic
	Group 2: Anne Hege Strand, University of Bergen Impact of “female” poverty risks in Norway and the UK

	Michal Polakowski, Maastricht Graduate School of Governance Changing patterns of childcare and unemployment compensation in Central and Eastern Europe
Saturday, afternoon 13.30 – 15	Plenary session Jenny Buchkremer, Otto-Friedrich-Universität Bamberg Europeanization of Social Policies. The influences of OMC/Inclusion on the welfare states in Germany, France and Italy
(Break 15-15.20)
15.20 - 16	Final discussion
Sunday	free time
	Travel day